P R E F A C E.

THE principal materials for the work contained in the following pages were collected and arranged by the late Mr. SAMUEL WOODWARD, and were by him denominated "THE NORFOLK TOPOGRAPHER'S MANUAL, under which title they are now given to the public, as it was his intention they should have been by himself.

After the death of Mr. Woodward, the manuscript came into the hands of the present Editor, by whom it has been carefully revised, and such additions have been made as it was in his power to supply.

As regards the Appendixes, these have been in great measure prepared and carried through the press by Mr. Dawson Turner, who has had the kindness to allow his own Catalogue of the very numerous and beautiful Drawings, &c. with which he has enriched his copy of Blomefield's History of Norfolk, to be attached to this volume—an addition which cannot but be found of great utility, both as indicating the locality of most of the more important antiquities of the county, and as most certainly preserving, by a reference to faithful figures, the memory of such as may be falling into decay.

The idea of the advantage that would be conferred upon a work of this nature by a reference to the Manuscripts in the British Museum, was first suggested by Sir Harris Nicolas, G.C.M.G., who likewise had the goodness to offer the use of his printed Catalogue of the Herald's Visitations. To Sir Henry Ellis, K.H., the head of that establishment, who most kindly contributed a Series of Memoranda concerning such of the contents of the Harleian Collections as relate to Norfolk, as also, a List of the Norfolk Drawings there, and, still further, an account of such of the County Chartularies as are known to be in existence, with many valuable Notes, the thanks of the Editor are especially due. Such assistance, from a man so situated, can scarcely be too highly appreciated.

With these aids, it is confidently trusted that this volume will be found of material use to all who are interested in the investigation of Norfolk Topography. It is published for the benefit of the Widow of Mr. Woodward—a man, who was at once most estimable in the various relations of social life; and whose unwearied industry in the devotion of his talents to the elucidation, both of the Antiquities and the Geology of his native county, is deserving of every eulogium.

HISTORIES OF NORWICH.*

- ALEXANDRI NEVYLLI ANGLI, DE FURORIBUS NORFOLCIENSIIUM KETTO DUCE.—Ejusdem Norvicus, et Nomina Prætorum (quos Maiores vocant) et Vicecomitum Norwicensium, ab anno primo Henrici quarti ad decimum sextum Elizabethæ Reginae; 4to. Londini, 1575
- THE HISTORY OF THE NORFOLK REBELS: by Alexander Nevill, a Kentish Man; with the History of Norwich, and a Catalogue of the Mayors; 4to. London, 1575

* Doctor John Caius, a native of Norwich, is said to have written a History of that City: such, however, was not the case. That he intended to do so, is evident from the following Note in one of his works. "Historiam Norvicensem scribere decrevimus, et omnia Galeni opera castigare, nisi fata prohibeant, et vitæ nostræ filum interumpant." He died in 1573, aged sixty-three.

Mr. John Kirkpatrick, Chamberlain of Norwich, who died in 1728, aged forty-two, collected very ample and valuable materials for a History of Norwich, which he bequeathed in manuscript to the Corporation; but they are now dispersed.

Mr. Benjamin Mackerell, of Norwich, author of the History of Lynn, had also prepared for the press a History of Norwich, which was never printed. The manuscript is in the possession of Hudson Gurney, Esq.

(1) This Font, which is of great antiquity, and is supposed to be of Saxon workmanship, is described at length and figured in its details by Mr. Pegge, in the Archæologia, x. 177-182. Further particulars respecting it occur in Dr. Sayers' Disquisitions, p. 257, where will be found an account of its having been removed from the Church at Burnham, and placed in the garden of my former tutor, Rev. Robert Forby, at Fincham. The Font in the adjoining parish of Burnham-Norton appears to be of the same æra.

(1) These Paintings, which have been brought to light in the course of the present year, 1840, by scaling off the whitewash preparatory to laying on a fresh coat, may be taken as specimens of the original decorations of a great proportion of our Norfolk Parish Churches. The three here selected are the most perfect of those that have been uncovered; but the whole interior of the building was covered with them. Many others will be found in the course of this Catalogue. As to their date, I can offer no conjecture. The style of art in these at Catfield is wretched: in most it is very bad; indeed, as much worse than might be expected, as that in our painted screens is better.

(1) This, with all the appearance of antiquity, is a recent erection, the residence of a Gamekeeper.

(2) Such is supposed to have been the use of this curious relic of antiquity, which is in the possession of Mr. Goddard Johnson; but, if so, there must have been a corresponding part to lay upon it; and neither in the instance of this specimen, nor of another that was picked up in the bed of the river near Norwich, and will be mentioned in a subsequent part of this Catalogue, has such been found. The coins too, engraved on both, apparently very ancient, are like none known.

(1) This Church is one of the many in Norfolk and Suffolk with round towers, all of which I believe to be Norman structures. Its chancel, which is circular-ended, bears a strong resemblance to the very interesting Chapel of St. Julian, near Rouen, figured by Mr. Cotman. The Norman arch on the North side is one of the finest specimens I know; and not less fine is that in the church of the adjoining parish, Heckingham. Indeed, nearly all the churches in this line of country are of the same early date; and there are few among them which do not contain architectural remains worthy of notice.

(1) Mr. Layton, in his descriptive letter-press to Cotman's Sepulchral Brasses, justly observes, that this effigy is one of those, not numerous, which were not put down till long after the decease of the individual they represent, and which are consequently calculated to mislead as to costume and style of art.

(2) This Parish will be found in Blomefield under the head of Langale, with which it was consolidated in 1421. The Church of the latter was dilapidated in the reign of King James I. The different drawings therefore here enumerated, belong to the Church of Kirkstead, as the deeds do to the Parish of Langale; and it has consequently been considered most desirable to keep the two Villages distinct in this Index.

(1) Apparently, a portion of a Monument of the time of King Edward III., removed from its place. In the centre has been inserted a tablet, inscribed, "Jas. Amis, T. R. Riches, 1790." These were the churchwardens at this time, when the Church underwent what is called a thorough repair: in plain English, the whole building, West of the chancel, was taken down, and all its contents were dispersed or destroyed. According to the Rev. William Gunn, it was previously one of the finest Churches in this part of the county.

(1) With regard to Norwich, it has been felt to be desirable to deviate in this Index from the plan adopted with the rest of the County, and to class the different objects in distinct groups, without reference to the particular parts of the City to which they may belong, leaving to each parish nothing more than its respective church. It is hoped that whatever is sought for will thus easily be found; and so the main object of the Catalogue will be accomplished. The other arrangement, I am aware, would have been attended with material, perhaps greater, advantages; and in most cases it might have been adopted with no other difficulty than the large quantity of the materials presented: in some, however, and particularly in the article of portraits, it would have been impracticable: individuals change their residence; or even, in some instances, the particular places where they lived become forgotten: Views also may embrace more than one parish; and so likewise, though in a less degree, with other things.

(2) In this Plan, and equally in that of the town of Yarmouth, Corbridge has inserted views of the different public buildings, including the churches, as well as of many private houses. Whatever therefore may appear in this Index under his name, must be sought for in those maps.

(1) The apartments here mentioned were occupied by Cardinal Wolsey at the time when, in order to compose the differences between the clergy and the citizens, he came to stay at Norwich. Four whole-length figures of angels occur in these windows. Two of them are crowned, and all support escutcheons: on one of these we find the Arms of England surmounted by the Royal Diadem; on another, those of the Cardinal, with his hat of office; and on a third, those of a Bishop, with his jewelled mitre; whilst the bearings of the See, of the Priory, and of many individuals whose records have now perished, occur in frequent repetition in smaller escutcheons on different panes.

(1) Blomefield, what is unusual with him, points out this Font as one of singular beauty, and indeed justly so. The basin is an octagon, on each of the sides of which are two figures, representing the twelve Apostles, with St. Michael, an Angel, and, apparently, two Bishops: attached to the shaft are twelve larger figures of male and female Saints; and immediately below the basin, a very graceful row of foliage. I remember no other Font like it.

(1) This and the following, which the clerk stated to have been portions of the screen, my daughter found hung against the wall of the church: the three other figures were in the chancel; and nobody could tell what they had belonged to. In point of art, they are so much better than the others, which are very rude, that they could hardly be by the same hand, or of the same time.

(1) Norwich can boast other specimens of this very beautiful workmanship; and Yarmouth also has some. The most remarkable, perhaps, of all is the North Wall of Norwich City Bridewell, of which Blomefield writes, (iv. p. 318) "it is esteemed the most curious wall of black flints in all England for its neat work and look, the stones being broken so smooth and joined so well:"—he might have added, and being so regularly squared. It was built by William Appleyard, about the year 1400.

(2) Blomefield calls this Queen Elizabeth's Mausoleum, and gives copies of two inscriptions in verse, which in his time existed near it, but which are now both gone. Queen Elizabeth, in one of her progresses, came to Norwich in 1578. Tradition erroneously states, that she lodged in a house in this parish.

(1) This figure, now concealed by a coat of white-wash, was painted immediately over the South door. In 1814, at the time the drawing was made, it was quite uncovered, as was much other fresco-painting on the walls. Common as was the representation of this Saint in ecclesiastical buildings, I recollect to have seen but two instances of his occurring in our Norfolk churches; this at Randworth, and another at Burnham-Overy, (see p. 27.) In neither was he accompanied by the Latin distich usually attached to him.

The Screen, from the style of art, appears to have been of the same date as that in the neighbouring parish of Ludham, the middle of the fifteenth century, and was probably the work of the same hands.

(1) Blomefield says, that Hugh de Bokenham died before 1425: the Effigies on his Monument, here copied from the Antiquarian Repertory, III., p. 341, can hardly be of a date anterior to 1470; judging from the armour of the man and the head-dress of the lady.

(2) This is, as far as my knowledge extends, the only specimen we have in Norfolk of a Galilee to a Church. The Galilee is entered by three arches: it appears to be of the same date as the rest of the building, the æra of the Decorated English Architecture, of which the Window over it is a beautiful specimen.

(1) The spot where these excavations are to be seen is called by the country people Oliver Cromwell's Camp; but the excavations, which are very numerous and disposed with regularity, appear to be of a much older date, and may be compared with those near Weeting, described by Blomefield, II., p. 148, and supposed by him to be the remains of a Danish Camp. In the Archæologia, also, VII. p. 236, is an account, accompanied with a rude plan, by Daines Barrington, of a quantity of, apparently, similar excavations, called Cole's Pits, near Little Coxwell in Berkshire; and he quotes passages from Leland and from Grieve, to prove the existence of others in Carmarthenshire and Kamskatka. His opinion is, that they were subterraneous towns. Many human bones have been found about those at Southacre, which are now, probably from age, very shallow. My late friend, Mr. Goodrick, to whom I am indebted for the drawing, was no ordinary man. Originally a shoemaker at Castleacre, he, by his talents and good conduct, attracted the attention of Brigg Fountaine, Esq., of Narford, who placed him in the Excise, where he raised himself to the situation of Collector at Yarmouth, universally esteemed. He was a good Latin and French scholar, with some knowledge of Greek and Persian, and considerable of Hebrew, and was very conversant with Antiquities.

(1) The many plates which are enumerated under the head of Thetford, as Etchings by Davy, are by Mr. Henry Davy, Author of the Suffolk Architectural Antiquities, and were executed by him from a set of Drawings by Rev. J. Wilkinson, for some time Curate of Thetford. The work was published in 1822.

(2) This, a Cluniac Priory, was used as the Cathedral from about the year 1066, when Herfastus, Bishop of the United Sees of Elmham and Dunwich, removed the See to Thetford till 1088; when, upon the death of his successor, Galsagus, it was finally established at Norwich by Herbert Losinga. Each of these three Prelates held the high office of Lord Chancellor.

(1) This and the two following drawings, from the Screen at Walpole, are copied from Schnebbelie's Antiquary's Museum. I can say nothing as to their fidelity, never having seen the originals; but I own my opinion is unfavourable; the coloring and the drawing being alike so poor. Still Schnebbelie is entitled to much praise for having attempted to draw public attention to our Rood-loft Screens, the painting on many of which is still left considerably perfect, and is often what may justly be called beautiful. Those of Randworth and Worstead, in the present volume, are instances of this description. Hence the neglect with which they have hitherto been treated cannot fail to be looked upon as remarkable; and I shall be glad, if my own endeavours to preserve and diffuse the knowledge of them, should be attended with more success than those of the late author of the Antiquary's Museum.

Gale to Mr. Talman: "Upon rummaging lately into some of our tattered archives, I have got some light into the portrait of the antient Bishop, which is represented in a window of a church in Norfolk, holding a great horn in his hand, of which you have made a fine drawing. The record relates to the horn of Bishop Ulphius, restored to York Cathedral by Henry, Lord Fairfax, 1671."

	Undated Indenture }	between Sir Tho ^s de Flegg and Tho ^s de Begeville, being an Agreement between them for the Settlement of Disputes, concerning Rights of Way in Winterton and Somerton	Orig. Deed

(1) Such is the notoriety of these trees, that "to be as large as a Winfarthing oak" has passed into a common saying. I do not, however, find any notice of them in Blomefield or in Chambers, which latter, far from confining himself to antiquities, has collected with surprising industry whatever refers to Norfolk. Neither can I learn that they are mentioned in the records of the parish, as is the case with some remarkable trees in different villages. Among others, I have been told that a half-decayed oak on Crostwick Common may thus be proved to be just six hundred years old.

CHARTERS.

6822—QUARTO.

A Volume chiefly consisting of Law Matters.

In the Notice of Grants from Henry VIII. to divers persons in the thirty-sixth year of his reign, (No. 2, folio 22,) the mention of Norfolk, as one of the counties enumerated in the Catalogue published by the Record Commission, is a mistake; but at folio 167 is a short Particular of an Estate of Fenn-Land, to be sold at Deerham, near King's Lynn; and folios 229 to 258 contain a Calendar of the Hundreds in the counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, and an account of them, in a hand of the time of Henry VI. 22

CHRONICLE.

2188—FOLIO.

A Book, partly Heraldical and partly Historical, in which is found—

No. 112.—Chronicon breviculum de rebus Anglicis, (et speciatim Norfolciencibus) ab A.D. 33, usque ad A.D. 1366 ... 120-122, b.

HISTORY OF COMMOTIONS.

1576—FOLIO.

A Book written by divers hands, and containing a large Collection of Miscellaneous Matters.

No. 94.—The Commoyson in Norfolk, in 1549. The laws of the Rebellion, begon in Norfolk by dyvers persons, as the same is reported to bee by dyvers persons, that upon enquiry did gett the understanding thereof: drawne forth by Nicholas Sotherton, with the manner and continuance of the same.—Imperfect at the end.

564–580

E P I T A P H S.

6762—FOLIO.

A Collection of Epitaphs, in a large and distinct hand, taken from churches in Essex, Suffolk, and Norfolk.

Those of Norfolk are from the Cathedral of Norwich, folio 46; St. Peter's (Mancroft), folio 79; St. George's (Tombland), folio 108; St. Michael's, folio 111; St. Giles', folio 118; St. Stephen's, folio 134; St. Miles', or Michael's, folio 137; Yarmouth, folio 139.

LISTS OF HUNDREDS AND PARISHES.

901—FOLIO.

A Book written by Mr. Robert Kemp, and containing his Historical and Heraldic Collections relating to the counties of Norfolk and Suffolk. Those in it which relate to Norfolk are—

No. 1.—Nomina Hundredorum, Villarum, Dominorum ac Tenentium in Comitatu Norfolciæ, certificata virtute Brevis Regis Edw. II. gerentis Teste, &c., 5 die Martii, anno regni sui nono 1–27

No. 2.—Arms (in blazon) described from the several Church-Windows, &c. in Norwich, with the Names of the Owners 27–31, b.

No. 6.—The Arms in most of the Towns and Villages in Norfolk, with some other Church-Notes, taken by Mr. Kemp, A. D. 1575, with a Table prefixed. [He puts them down in blazon, with the Names of the Bearers in the margin. And sometimes, when a Coat is rare, obscure, or otherwise liked by him, he expresses the same in trick as well as he could; for it appears he could use the pen better than the pencil.] 44–117

Nos. 7 & 8.—A Table of the Names of Families, mentioned in certain Extracts, which follow from the Pedigrees of some of the Nobility and many of the Gentry of Norfolk and Suffolk ... 118–202

No. 10.—Inquisitiones captæ (per singula Hundreda) anno R. R. Henrici iv. tercio, pro rationabili auxilio de Feodis Militum, ad Blanchiam filiam suam primogenitam maritandam, in Comitatu Norfolciæ colligendo; in quibus recensentur Terrarum et Maneriorum in capite Tenentes 207, b.–239.

No. 11.—Tabula (sive Nomina) Hundredorum Comitatus Norfolciæ 239, b.

980—QUARTO.

A Book, on the outside intituled “Legulei Supellex,” containing many Collections and Extracts from Books, as well written as printed. The Collector was Thomas Gybbons, Esq.

No. 215.—The Number of Parishes, Towns, and Acres in the county of Norfolk 196, b.

2195—FOLIO.

A Book, containing an Order from Edward II. addressed to the Officers in charge of different counties in England, requiring a Return of the Number of Hundreds, Towns, &c. in their Bailiwicks.

No. 2.—Nomina Villarum in Comitatu Norfolciæ, 9 Edw. II.

2198—FOLIO.

A Book, consisting of many Tracts, written and tricked by different persons.

No. 20.—Arms of many Norfolk Families—taken (as the Compiler of the Harleian Catalogue supposes) from the Visitation of 1612 and 1613. They are very roughly drawn 205

2230—FOLIO.

A Book, like the preceding, of many Tracts bound together.

No. 21.—Arms with Descents of Norfolk Families.—They are somewhat confused, and the precise Visitation they are derived from unascertained. They are said to be extracted from a Visitation of this County, taken 1594, when Dr. Parkhurst was (as the writer thought) Bishop of Norwich.—“But this is only random talk: I do not find there was any Visitation of this County in A.D. 1594. As for Bishop Parkhurst, he died long before, namely, in A.D. 1575; but he was Bishop of that Diocese when Clarencieux Harvey visited the County. Probably, therefore, the Visitation meant might be that taken in or about the year 1589 by Robert Cooke, Clarencieux.” * 154

No. 22.—Arms of Norfolk Families, taken from an old Book concerning that County 167

3391—QUARTO.

A Miscellaneous Volume of Arms and Descents:—

Among them a few of Norfolk are said to occur; but they are of no consequence.

* Printed Catalogue of the Harleian Manuscripts, II. p. 567.

4756—FOLIO.

Genealogies of Families in Norfolk, 1612.

This is in ninety-five folios, bound up with 1101 and 5823, which see, as relating to the same County. It is a very good Manuscript, and the Pedigrees are full.

6093—QUARTO.

Arms, Descents, and Pedigrees, taken at the Visitation of Norfolk, made by William Harvey, Clarencieux King of Arms, July 26, 1563, in the fifth year of Elizabeth: with an Alphabetical Index.

88—FOLIO.

A Volume on Paper, containing various Collections of R. Starkey and Sir Simonds D'Ewes, from the Public Records.

No. 8.—Excerpta ex Compoto Joannis de Bloumville de Exitibus Escaetriae in Comitatibus Norfolciae, Suffolciae, Cantabridgiae, &c. a 29 die Novemb. anno regni Regis Edw. 11. 17, usque ad festum Sancti Michaelis proximè sequens 166

701—FOLIO.

A Manuscript formerly belonging to the Court of Augmentation. The old Title is "Monasteria Dissoluta in Comitatibus Norfolciae, Suffolciae, Cantabridgiae, Huntingdoniae, Hertfordiae, Essexiae, Middlesexiae, et Civitatis London, Anno xxxvi Henrici viij."

The entries relating to Monasteries in Norfolk will be found at folio 143, and the following.

1178—FOLIO.

An Heraldical Book, all written by the hand of Mr. Sampson Lennard, Bluemantle, who in his time was a very good Officer of Arms, and containing a Miscellany of his Collections.

No. 3.—Ex Registro Henrici Prioris Cant. penes Rev. Episc. Norwicensem 25

No. 38.—Notes of Records relating to the Priory and Cathedral of Norwich 259

* This volume had been purchased by Mr. West, out of the library of Sir Joseph Jekyll, and had belonged to Lord Somers. The dedication of the church at Norwich is entered in the calendar on the twenty-fourth of September. There seems to have been a use for the Diocese of Norwich, and probably for all the others. See Nasmith's Catalogue of the Manuscripts in Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, No. cccclv. On the back of folio 2, is a Latin hymn on the Wise Men's Offering.

ALDEBY.

ST. BENET HULME.

“Cartæ originales, Computi Obedientiariorum et Ballivorum, rotuli Curiarum, &c. inter Munimenta Sedis Episcopalis Norwic. In palatio Norwic.”—Ibid.

A Register of this Monastery, of great importance, is preserved among the Cottonian Manuscripts in the British Museum, Galba, E. 11. The Table of its contents, enumerating above eleven hundred charters, is given in the last edition of Dugdale's Monasticon, vol. iii. p. 66–79.—Anstis had a transcript of this Register; and Excerpts from it are preserved in the Harleian Manuscripts, 298, folio 133; 972, folio 80; 980, p. 155; and 6478, folio 3.

A Roll, relating to the Spiritualties of St. Benet Hulme, is among the Cottonian Charters in the British Museum, iv. 57; and a few Charters relating to it are among Bishop Tanner's own Manuscript Collections at Oxford.

Part of a Register of St. Benet Hulme, formerly belonging to Thomas Astle, Esq., is now in the Library of the Duke of Buckingham and Chandos at Stowe. Press iii., No. cii. See the Bibliotheca Stowensis, vol. ii. p. 166.

BINHAM.

Bishop Tanner mentions two Registers of Binham Priory in the Notitia Monastica: One, as preserved in the Cottonian Library at the Museum, Claud. D. XIII. “Ex dono dom. Joan. le Gard de Ganton in Com. Ebor. qui duxit filiam dom. Thomæ Widdringtoni quem penes extitit Registrum hujus prioratûs, A.D. 1652:” the other, as Sir William Dugdale’s own, “penes autorem Mon. Angl. A.D. 1648.”—There seems reason, however, to consider these but as one Manuscript. The volume, which was Sir Robert Cotton’s, has still the following entry upon the first leaf in Dugdale’s own hand: “Registrum Cartarum Prioratûs de Binham in agro Norfolciensi, ex dono Johannis Legard de Ganton in Com. Ebor. Baronetti.” And, upon collation, every page transcribed in the Monasticon, as from the Register belonging to Sir William Dugdale, answers minutely to the Cottonian Manuscript. A Synopsis of the more important contents of this Manuscript (which is a thick folio, written in a large hand, in the early part of the fourteenth century) is given in the last edition of the Monasticon, vol. iii. pp. 343, 344, Note.

BLACKBOROUGH NUNNERY.

Dugdale quotes a Register of this Nunnery as in the Library of Sir Henry Spelman. In Nasmith’s time, this Manuscript belonged to Dr. Cox Macro. It afterwards came, together with a large portion of the other Spelman Manuscripts, into the possession of Hudson Gurney, Esq., of Keswick near Norwich. An abstract of its more important contents will be found in the last edition of Dugdale’s Monasticon, vol. iv. p. 205, Note.

BROMHOLM.

There is a Register of this Priory among Bishop Moore’s Manuscripts, in the Public Library at Cambridge, Mm. ii. 20.

Hearne, in his Preface to Adam de Domerham, p. lviii., has printed a Grant from Richard de Paston to the Priory of Bromholm, of certain rents for keeping their Books in repair: copied from an old Ledger-Book pertaining to the Priory, which, February 28, 1726, was in the hands of Mr. Paston, of Pauntley in Gloucestershire.

Sir Thomas Phillipps, in his "Index to Cartularies," p. 5, refers to this latter Manuscript, but does not say where it is at present.

BUCKENHAM.

Sir Thomas Phillips refers to a Chartulary of Buckenham, formerly belonging to Thomas Martin of Palgrave.

A Survey of the Demesnes of this Priory, temp. Henry VIII., is in the Augmentation-Office.

CASTLE-ACRE.

A Register, formerly Sir Symonds D'Ewes's, of this Priory is now among the Harleian Manuscripts, No. 2110. It is a folio volume, the greater part of which appears to have been written in the fourteenth century. A full enumeration of its contents will be found in the last edition of the Monasticon, vol. v. p. 46-48, Note.

There is another Register of this House, preserved among the Records in the King's Remembrancer's Office in the Exchequer.

Tanner, in the Notitia Monastica, refers to a Register of Castle-Acre, "penes dom. Thomam Widdrington." Sir Thomas Phillipps, Index ut supr. p. 9, says "Roger Dodsworth, post Sir T. Widdrington." He adds, as if speaking of another Register, "Thomas Martin, 1772, post I. Ives."

Peter Le Neve, Norroy King of Arms, had a Rental of Castle-Acre—a quarto Manuscript on vellum.

There is an Extent of Castle-Acre Priory, 44 Edward III., in the Additional Manuscripts in the British Museum, 6164, p. 423.

COKESFORD.

Two Registers of this Priory are in the hands of the Marquess of Townshend's Trustees.

Among the Charters given to the British Museum by the late Lord Frederick Campbell, is a Fragment of a Terrier, or Register of the Lands of Cokesford Priory in Beremere, Westrudham, and Estrudham, "secundum novas abuttationes," 12 Hen. iv. marked L.F.C. xxi. 8.

CRABHOUSE.

Among the Additional Manuscripts in the British Museum, No. 4733, is a Register of Crabhouse Nunnery, presented to the Library in 1765, by the Rev. Henry Robinson. It consists of sixty-four leaves; the first fifty-four on vellum, the rest on paper. The first page of this Manuscript is in French verse, beginning—

" Seinurs et Dames, veus et jones
 " Fracs et serfs et totes en communes
 " Ke voliunt oyer et entendre
 " En cest escrit pount aprendre
 " Coment la Mesun de Crabhus
 " Et de totes les fez et lus
 " Comencerunt. Ke uncore sunt
 " Et de donurs ke donerunt
 " E de terres et tenemens
 " De rentes et de ffefemens,
 " Ke a la vaunt dit Mesun parteynunt
 " Coment et de ques done esteyunt," &c.

It is followed as far as folio 35, b. by the Legend of the Foundation, various Charters, and the History of the early Benefactors, in French prose.

At folio 36, follows—"TERRARIUM. Hæ sunt terræ et tenementa pertinentia Domui Sancti Johannis Apostoli et Evangelistæ de Crabhous jacencia in villa et campis de Wygenhale, Tylneye, Clenchewarton, Lenn Episcopi, Westwynche, Sechythe, Walyngton, et Thorplond de novo scripta die Lunæ prox. ante festum Epiphaniæ Domini tempore Johannæ Wygenhale Priorissæ dictæ Domûs, anno regni Regis Henrici quinti post Conquestum octavo, et anno Domini Millesimo, CCCC^{mo}, XX^{mo}. This extends to folio 49.—At folio 50, b. and on to 53, is a "Mencyon of Werkys made in the House of Crabhouse;" that is, an Account of the several Buildings undertaken and executed there during the time of Prioress Joan Wygenhale, from 1420 to 1444, in Old English.— At folio 55, we have “ The Survaye of the late Priory of Crabhouse and Westdereham, made the xxij daye of Marche, in the third and fourthe yeres of the Reign of our Sovereign Lorde and Ladye, Kynge Philip and Quene Mary, by John Ffawkenor and Edward Bowett, of all the houses, beldings, barnes, stabulls, duffehouses, gardens, orchards, court-lodges, londs, tenements, medowes, fedings, pastures, marshes, woods, commons, and advosones, sette, lying, and being in the parishes of Wygenhall, Tylney, Islyngton, Sethey, Estwynche, Westwynche, Clenchewarton, Lynne, Wymbottesham, Thorpeland, Elme, and Elmyth, in the said countie. All whiche premisses be nowe in the possession of Sir Edward Gage, knight.”

CREYK.

The Chartulary of North Creyk, probably the same with that mentioned by Tanner, as being, in 1632, in the possession of Henry Dereham, Esq. of West Dereham, now belongs to Sir Thomas Phillipps of Middle-Hill in Worcestershire. It is a small folio, of the thirteenth century, in seventy-two leaves, and begins with an account of its foundation, by Robert de Nerford, in Lengerescroft, containing forty acres (not four hundred, as stated by the continuator of Blomefield, and by Taylor in his Index Monasticus.) It appears from this Chartulary that the Abbey had its principal Estates in Lingerscroft, North Creyk, South Creyk, Quarles, North Barsham, Holcham, Thorp, and Brunham.

A Portion of another Register of this House, formerly belonging to Dr. Moore, Bishop of Ely, is now in the Public Library at Cambridge.

EAST DEREHAM.

Sir Thomas Phillipps, in his “ Index to Cartularies,” p. 12, refers to two Registers of this House: one in his own possession, 1838; the other as in the possession of Richard Heber, Esq., of Hodnet, county of Salop, 1833. Probably the same Manuscript.

WEST DEREHAM.

The Register of West Dereham, mentioned in Nasmith's edition of Tanner's Notitia, as Mr. Thomas Astle's, is now in the Library of the Duke of Buckingham and Chandos at Stowe. Press iii., No. LXXII. See the Bibliotheca Stowensis, vol. ii. p. 141.

HORSHAM.

Tanner refers to various Court-Rolls, and a Register of this Priory, as formerly belonging to Sir John Hobart, Bart.

An Extent of the Lands of this Priory, 18 Edward II., is printed in the Monasticon, last edition, vol. iii. p. 638.

There is an Extent of the Lands of this Priory, 18 Edward II. in the Additional Manuscripts, 6164, in the British Museum, p. 254.

LANGLEY.

Sir Thomas Phillipps refers to a Register of Langley, as in Bibl. Bodl., p. 242."

Another (imperfect) formerly belonging to Moore, Bishop of Ely, is now in the Public Library at Cambridge.

A third Register, in folio, consisting of fifty-seven leaves of vellum, but irregularly placed and imperfect, is preserved among the Museum Manuscripts, Additional Manuscripts, 5948.

MARHAM.

Sir John Hare, of Stow Hall in Norfolk, possessed a Register of this Nunnery, in 1632. Collectanea from it are to be found in the Harleian Manuscript, 294.

A Rental of Marham Abbey is in the Duke of Buckingham and Chandos' Library at Stowe. Press iv. No. LIII. See the Bibliotheca Stowensis, vol. ii. p. 226.

MOUNTJOY.

Tanner mentions a Register and original Charters of this Priory, in the possession of Clement Herne, Esq. of Haverland : as well as a Portion of a Register in the possession of William Bladwell of Swanington, Gent.

Several old Deeds belonging to this Priory are preserved in the Tally-Court at Westminster.

NORMANNESBERCH IN SOUTH RAINHAM.

CELL TO CASTLE-ACRE.—For Charters relating to it, see the Register of Castle-Acre among the Harleian Manuscripts, No. 2110, folio 54, where it is called “ Cella de Reynham.”

NORTON SOUPECORS, OR RAVENINGHAM.

Nasmith's Additions to Tanner refer to a Chartulary of the College here, as formerly in the possession of Peter Le Neve, Esq.; afterwards of Mr. Astle. It is now in the Duke of Buckingham and Chandos' Library at Stow. Press iii. No. LXXIII. See the Bibliotheca Stowensis, vol. ii. p. 142.

NORWICH.

CATHEDRAL OF THE HOLY TRINITY.

Bishop Tanner refers to no fewer than seven Registers of Charters relating to this Cathedral, in the Archives of the Dean and Chapter.

The first, made about the year 1306, under the direction of Prior Lakenham, contains the Charters which refer to the Foundation and Endowment of the Church, folio.

The second, contains the Charters more especially referring to the Almonry, folio.

The contents of the third and fourth Registers he has not specified, folio.

The fifth relates to the Cellarer's Office: compiled in 1282, by Ralph de Elyngham, folio.

The sixth is the “ Registrum Camerarii.”

The seventh, a Register of Papal Bulls, royal Charters, Donations, and Confirmations; consisting of eighty-six leaves, in quarto.

Among the Topographical Manuscripts in the Duke of Buckingham and Chandos' Library at Stowe, Press iv. No. v. is one entitled "Terrarium Prioratûs Norwici," in folio, on a hundred and fourteen leaves of vellum; containing the rental of this Priory from the Lands, Villages, &c. of Hindringham, Hildovestone, Neutone, Troues, Etone, Taverham, Elmham, Catton, Grange-Monachorum, Plumstede, Heylesden, and Martham. See the Bibliotheca Stowensis, vol. ii. pp. 198, 199.

Tanner gives references to a "Repertorium Episcopale Norwicense, collectum per Anton. Harrison, clerk, A.D. 1603," to various Bailiffs' and other Accounts of the Manors belonging to the Bishoprick, in the nineteenth and twenty-fifth Henry VIII., and for the years 1626 and 1691, in the Public Library at Cambridge.

See "Collectiones ex Registris Eccl. Norwic. per Humfr. Pri-deaux." Harleian Manuscripts, 6974.

Sir Thomas Phillipps refers to a Register belonging to Edmund Thimelthorpe, A.D. 1714.

CELL OF ST. LEONARD'S.

"Rot. Comput. Priorum Cellæ S. Leonardi in archivis Decani et Capit. Norvic."—Tann.

CARHOW NUNNERY.

Dugdale gives an Extract from an ancient Roll relating to this Nunnery, which, A.D. 1650, was in the possession of John Whiting, Gent.

Tanner refers to a Collection of Charters and Rolls relating to it, in the possession of Nathaniel Axtell, Esq.; also to some "Analecta e Cartulario quodam de Carhow," in a volume of his own collections, marked T.T. folio 484, &c. now at Oxford.

ST. GILES'S HOSPITAL.

Tanner refers to various Charters, Registers, Rentals, &c. of this Hospital, among the Archives of the City of Norwich. The particular of the valuation of it, thirty-eighth Henry VIII., is to be found in the Harleian Manuscript, 4316, p. 132.

NORMAN SPITEL.

Cartæ, Comput. &c. &c. in Archivis Decani et Capituli Norwicensis.

PENTNEY.

Tanner, from Dugdale, quotes a Register of this House, in the possession of the Duke of Rutland, at Belvoir Castle.

SPORLE.

ALIEN PRIORY.

Bundel. benef. alienig. 48 Edw. III.—Tanner says, “ Vide Escaet. Norfolciæ, 15 Hen. VI. n. 48. post mortem Joannæ Reginae Angliæ, ubi Extenta omnium terrarum, reddituum, &c. ad hunc Prioratum spectantium.

An Extent of this Priory, eighteenth Edw. II., in the Additional Manuscripts, 6164, in the British Museum, p. 252.

THETFORD.

CLUNIAN PRIORY.

Tanner refers to a Register of this House formerly belonging to William Le Neve, Esq., Clarencieux: to two Registers, which, in 1719, belonged to Peter Le Neve; and to another Register in the Duke of Grafton's possession.

Sir Thomas Phillipps refers to a Register of Thetford, as in the Library of Craven Ord, Esq. But it did not make its appearance in either of the Sale Catalogues of Mr. Ord's Library and Manuscripts.

Some Charters relating to Thetford are among Anthony à Wood's Manuscripts in the Ashmolean Museum at Oxford.

WALSINGHAM.

The Register of Walsingham Priory, quoted by Dugdale as in the possession of Samuel Roper, Esq. of Heanor, county of Derby, was given by that gentleman in 1670 to Sir Robert Cotton, amongst whose Manuscripts it still remains in the British Museum.

Nero, E. VII.—An ample Schedule of its contents is given in the last edition of Dugdale's Monasticon, vol. vi. p. 72.

A Paper Survey of the possessions of this Monastery, temp. Hen. VIII., is preserved in the Augmentation-Office.

WEYBRIDGE,

(IN THE PARISH OF ACLE.)

Original Charters belonging to Weybridge, formerly with Peter le Neve, Norroy. Tanner.

WYMONDHAM OR WINDHAM.

The most important Register of this Monastery is in the Cottonian Collection, Titus, C. VIII. a small folio of a hundred and four leaves, a Schedule of the chief contents of which will be found in the last edition of the Monasticon, vol. iii. pp. 327, 328.

Bishop Tanner refers to another Register, formerly (A.D. 1640) in the possession of Sir William Le Neve, Clarencieux, and afterwards of Sir Edward Walker.

The Cottonian Manuscript, Otho, B. iv., destroyed in the fire at Westminster, in 1731, contained a metrical account of the change of Wymondham from a Cell to an Abbey, from the pen of Whethamstede, the literary Abbot of St. Alban's. Weever has given some extracts from it in his Funeral Monuments, pp. 809, 810.

YARMOUTH.

PRIORY.

ST. MARY'S HOSPITAL.

“Registr. et Cartæ penes Majorem, Aldermannos, &c. Jerne-muthæ Magnæ.” Tanner.

The most important fragment of this history is in the original manuscript, which is now in the hands of the British Museum. It is a small leaf of a hundred and four lines, written in the hand of the twelfth century, and is the only one of the kind which has been found in the West of England.

WESTBRIDGE.

The most important fragment of this history is in the original manuscript, which is now in the hands of the British Museum. It is a small leaf of a hundred and four lines, written in the hand of the twelfth century, and is the only one of the kind which has been found in the West of England.

WESTBRIDGE OR WINDHAM.

The most important fragment of this history is in the original manuscript, which is now in the hands of the British Museum. It is a small leaf of a hundred and four lines, written in the hand of the twelfth century, and is the only one of the kind which has been found in the West of England.

APPENDIX IV.

The most important fragment of this history is in the
